Are we ready for this dramatic shift in our human personality?

Learn: Who We Are, How We Function in the Physical World, the Eternal and Internal Energy that we must live in our physical reality of life!

As we live and learn the magnitude of our Spirit Consciousness Energy, we become better people.

The Ethical Values are the patterns that our Spirit Consciousness uses to help itself grow!

Learn to Live The Ethical Values as the Chemical Energy of Us, Nature, Earth & the Universe! Experience the energy of change that will happen within you!

In 2009 I have attempted to teach you the Energy Sources of our Spirit Consciousness. When we understand our Ethical Values in relationship to our Spirit Consciousness, it helps us to understand that we are patterned as human beings through our Ethical Values as the design of our Spirit Consciousness. Before we can open our thinking mind to using our Ethical Values, we must learn who we are, how we function in the physical world, and understand the eternal and internal energy that we must live in our physical reality of life. We must understand the “energy” of our Ethical Values as a part of our Spirit Consciousness, which is important if we want to understand our Ethical Values as the Energy Source of our Spirit Consciousness that we use to guide us through our physical lives. Our goal as human beings is to learn how to live our Ethical Values, which supports the design of our Spirit Consciousness energy. We can never understand the energy of our Ethical Values until we are fully capable of living all of our Spirit Consciousness energy in our everyday physical life.

As we live and learn the magnitude of our Spirit Consciousness Energy, we become better people. We can no longer live by stealing, lying, cheating, or committing any form of crime or dishonest behavior. Once we understand that it is only when we can live the Ethical Values of our Spirit Consciousness in our everyday physical behavior that we transform our physical behavior into our spirit behavior, we change our lifestyle, our everyday behaviors, our thinking and our physical behaviors to abide by the entire pattern of our Ethical thinking, emotions and behaviors. Are we ready for this dramatic shift in our human personality? We can only look at ourselves and see where we are in the human behavior that we are living towards other people and within ourselves.

Our Ethical Values are defining for us the structure of our Spirit Consciousness energy and showing us the precise patterns of energy behavior that we must live to become a Spiritual Being. As energy we are eternal in our patterns of human life. As we live our Ethical Values we are exploring our internal and eternal energy fields. This is our Spiritual design that we eternally live to expand our internal energy source as our growth as human energy beings.

We Are Our Own Ancestors! The history of us as cellular energy beings begins with understanding the Ethical Values of our Spiritual Design and their function within us! Join us and change your own level of energy!

Being Spiritual: The Merging of our Ethical Values as our Energy Fields

The only chance we have to evolve as human beings is to understand energy. Energy is the basis of evolution, and we can only consciously become Spiritual Beings when we understand ourselves as energy. The energy of our 33 Ethical Values creates the entire structure of our Dual Soul growth as energy. If we are not consciously living the Ethical Values, we are not living our Dual Soul growth. We are still focused in the physical energy as “All that is,” and we do not understand the difference between physical energy and soul energy. Once we can understand the Ethical Values we can clearly define the energy we are using as we live our everyday life. Without the Ethical Values, we do not understand energy and we will not understand how to actively use our spiritual energy to heal ourselves and the physical energy we are living as human beings on Earth.

All of my classes in 2009 will focus on energy: the energy of the thinking mind, loving emotions, Spirit senses and physical body. If we do not understand the design of these energies and how they work together within us we will not be able to live the Ethical Values because we cannot relate the Ethical Values to us and our pattern of physical life. We will not know how to live our life by its normal design and structure because the Ethical Values provide the structure for our Dual Soul growth. If we don't understand the structure of the Ethical Values we don't have structure to help us design the way we live, therefore we live like a “loose cannon,” a “wild card,” creating chaos. We focus on living at whatever level of physical energy that we have “glommed onto.” We attach ourselves to a certain concept, such as religion. There are other concepts, such as “I know it all,” “we live only one life.” We use whatever information we have been able to put into our brain in past lives and we try to use it in this life, but we understand this information only in terms of the physical focus, not in terms of a thinking mind and the wisdom of us as a Dual Soul energy.

Before we can truly change, we have to understand our true relationship with energy. We have to understand the energy of the Ethical Values as the design of the energy within us. As a dual soul and spirit we must open our mind and learn how to use our past life memory. When we think of ourselves in terms of mental, emotional, and physical energy, we do not understand how and why our energy only becomes apparent and can only be used when we understand the structure of an Ethical Value to attach it to. Otherwise we are just jumping off the cliff all the time – we have no sense of internal balance or eternal life.

The physical energy fields that surround us control what we think and what we do. The physical energy of us is like the house we live within. Driving a car is kind of like driving the energy field of our human body. When we do not follow the energy design of the car, we will wreck the car and experience death, to begin again with our experience of learning. No matter what challenges we create for ourselves, and that our world presents to us, when we understand ourselves as energy with a well-defined structure and design of energy and matter based upon the Ethical Values, we will maintain and celebrate our internal balance as we support our Spirit Consciousness and our Universal design of love, truth, and equality. Learning is the greatest gift we can give ourselves as human beings. Change begins with us. Change your energy first, and the energy of our world will follow!
